

TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY

The Texas State Gymnastics Club is a sports club for Texas State University (formerly Southwest Texas State University) that was established in 1968, making it one of the oldest sports clubs in the history of the university. The club also participates in a variety of fundraisers, kids gymnastics classes, and hosts competitions.

The club competes in the TGC (Texas Gymnastic Conference) and NAIGC (National Association of Intercollegiate Gymnastics Clubs) conferences. Throughout the year the club competes against its fellow Texas schools: Texas A&M, University of Texas, Baylor University, Texas Tech University, University of Texas at Dallas and many more.

Gymnasts at Texas State have the luxury of practicing in one of the two on campus club facilities in the state of Texas, having been renovated within the past few years. The gym is furnished with all new equipment and matting, including an all new floor acquired during the 2014-2015 season. The team practices are Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 7-9pm. Membership in the club is open to any Texas State student. Various members of the team also coach a program called “GymKats” which they encourage and motivate children to learn the importance of functional movements as well as teach proper techniques and progressions used in gymnastics.
